FACTS

I, Robert James Fox, a sui juris Spiritual Being created in the image of, and by the Great Creator, upon the land. I am a follower of Yahshua the Messiah in the laws of the Almighty Supreme Creator, Yahvah, first and foremost and the laws of man when they are not in conflict (Leviticus 18:3-4). Pursuant to Matthew 5:33-37 and James 5:12 let my yea be yea and my nay be nay, as supported by your Federal Public Law 97-280, 96 Stat. 1211. I have personal knowledge of the matters stated herein, am over the age of majority, and hereby asseverate understanding the liabilities presented in your Briscoe v. Lahue, 460 U.S. 325.

PREFACE

I, Robert James Fox, in the interest of justice and the correct execution of the law hereby provide notice of requirement to remand this case, based upon new evidence, especially on the Asylum issue.

A change of venue to Dallas Texas is appropriate for securing additional witnesses and evidence, and due to the personal animus of administrator Lisa Luis.

Due to circumstances of being detained by force of arms, and even denied internet, evidence was not available to me for my Asylum Application, wherefore I was unable to properly evidence and back any claim on the issue of religion until now.

NEW FACTS AND EVIDENCE

I was under duress, suffering Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, and concerned as to potential extra retaliation beyond the physical and mental abuse I have already suffered, while lacking the evidence required to properly assert a claim of religious persecution and government involvement, when I filed the asylum application, however I now have NEW EVIDENCE, IN SUPPORT OF A NEW DECISION; furthermore no valid determination has been made with regard to these NEW FACTS AND EVIDENCE supporting asylum, a stay of deportation as is appropriate under these circumstances, and/or remand!!!

REGARDING THE ASYLUM ISSUE OF RELIGION

Judaism is the mono-theistic RELIGION of the Jews. All Jews (tribe of Judah, also Benjamin, and some of Levi) PLUS the other ten tribes (called the 'lost tribes') ARE DESCENDED FROM Jacob as per the Holy Bible as further supported by your own Federal Public Law 97-280, 96 Stat. 1211, declaring that the Bible is "THE WORD OF GOD". Jacob's name was changed to 'Israel' by God Almighty so all twelve of his sons gave rise to the 'Tribes of Israel'. Judaism is the mono-theistic religion of the Jews. Furthermore, it must be noted that while all Jews are Israelites, not all Jews are Zionists. Zionists adhere to a distinctly different religious thought pattern. Currently on CNN we have seen that contrary to generally accepted rules of war, the Zionists will even bombard a hospital and a school, while asserting a claim of self defense!!! Other incidents exemplify Zionist thinking, such as the brutal assault on an innocent American teenager, plus the Palestinian teenager burned alive, and the case of the thirteen year old girl – "Witnesses described how the captain shot Iman twice in the head, walked away, turned back and fired a stream of bullets into her body. Doctors at Rafah's hospital said she had been shot at least seventeen times." Someone commented, just like a Zionist to have killed her seventeen times!! Indeed, the captain declared that even if she was three years old, she had to be killed, and he did the 'right thing' (see attached Exhibit)!!!

As for the accident in Canada, my life was threatened for three years and I just now discovered the evidence which goes to show why there will be no resolution until I am tortured and murdered (as can easily be arranged in prison). Upon meeting detainees from Jordan (see attached affidavit), Libya, and Egypt, I have been informed that Zionists never forget, never forgive, and are incredibly brutal in their retaliation, so much so that the detainees from Egypt and Libya are even afraid of potential retaliation here at the Houston Processing Center. I mentioned these witnesses to a friend in the free world, and was duly informed that there are at least SIX ORGANIZATIONS OF JEWS AGAINST ZIONISM (see attached articles)!!!! In France and Germany there were big protests against Jews, causing innocent Jews to suffer for the acts of Zionists!!! I myself am of the tribes of Israel, as published in my winning federal felony case, U.S. v. Fox, 766 F.Supp. 569 (1991). I have Jewish friends (tribe of Judah) and I can readily verify, like my newfound friend from Egypt who also knows from his Orthodox Jewish friend, that not all Jews act like Zionists, who apparently are the radical extremists of the Jewish faith!!! The International Jewish Anti-Zionist Network declared on July 24, 2014 that, "...the frightening slaughter of the Palestinian people in Gaza and condemn both the Israeli government and the complicity of Canada." (see attached Exhibit).

In the accident I had in Canada, I was in a van while tragically two males that were on a motorcycle died. They were members of a Zionist family, specifically the brother in law and nephew of one Greg Brodsky, who was Chairman of the Zionist Organization there, plus the President of the Criminal Trial Lawyers Association, whereby this combination was apparently sufficient to warp the so-called 'legal proceedings' even though in a trial delving into every aspect of the accident, I was initially acquitted of the charge of 'dangerous driving', ultimately Greg Brodsky's presence apparently had sufficient influence to obtain a conviction on exactly the same charge!!! Even so, the pre-sentence report declared that there should be no incarceration, and no probation for this accident!! Nevertheless government is simply composed of men and women. The Zionist Occupied Government in Canada adheres to Zionist attitudes, which holds Non-Zionists as inconsequential, disposable, expendable life forms as per attached exhibit with the full 37 pages available on the internet, incorporated here as if provided on paper which is frequently not available at the Houston Processing Center, such as on August 25, and many other dates!!!!!! Indeed, due to the RELIGIOUS AND POLITICAL CONNECTIONS THROUGH THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT, I was sentenced to nine months, in a case that was taught at the University of Winnipeg Law School as a total aberration in law. Furthermore, even thirteen years after the accident, in 1990 the Zionist connections to the Canadian Broadcasting System enabled them to actually use their international television connections to solicit 'bounty hunters' to capture me and bring me back to Canada, even though there is no such thing as international bounty hunters, and they were in actual fact SOLICITING THE CRIMINAL ACT OF KIDNAPPING!!!!!!

THE FIVE UNCONTESTED AFFIDAVITS OF ACTUAL WITNESSES AS TO THE DEATH THREATS HAVE BEEN ON FILE WITH INS SINCE 1990 AND HAVE BEEN WITHHELD FROM ME AND THE COURT DESPITE MY FOIA!!! No valid determination has been made with regard to the NEW FACTS AND EVIDENCE supporting amendment or supplement of my Asylum Application, a stay of deportation, and/or remand. ALSO an article I just received sheds more light on the cause of the total aberration in the law that I suffered in Canada!!! Greg Brodsky breached two of the ethics codes of the law society, and was fined $20,000 plus $19,000 for the costs that the law society incurred to investigate, prosecute, and hear the case (see attached news articles). The part that is real interesting is that Greg Brodsky was once the chairman of the law society's ethics committee AND JUDICIAL COMMITTEE!!!! Clearly Greg Brodsky has his own ethical shortcomings, as well as having the connections both inside and outside of the Canadian prison system to secure my torture and murder, since he handled over 600 cases of alleged killers (more than one a month), reportedly the highest number in North America, now over 700 killers, so he clearly has the connections to killers capable of having a NON-ZIONIST such as myself discretely tortured and murdered, by simply making it appear to be prison gang violence!!!! Clearly it is not appropriate to put me into the hands of Zionists in Canada, where they have sufficient political influence to warp the Canadian government, along with the means and opportunity to torture and murder me, perhaps to be tortured seventeen times, and then killed seventeen times just like the 13 year old girl in Israel, all because Zionists never forget, never forgive, and are incredibly brutal in their retaliation!!! This new evidence is appropriately grounds for a stat of deportation and a remand for reconsideration regarding my asylum claim.

It appears to me that contrary to the Constitution for the United States of America, and contrary to 18 USC 241/242, by executive action I have been subjected to a Bill of Pains and Penalties, which may very well bear fruit as a Bill of Attainder as per facilitating a DEATH PENALTY! See 18 USC 241/242

Israeli officer: I was right to shoot 13-year-old child

Chris McGreal in Jerusalem The Guardian, Tuesday 23 November 2004 19.02 EST

An Israeli army officer who repeatedly shot a 13-year-old Palestinian girl in Gaza dismissed a warning from another soldier that she was a child by saying he would have killed her even if she was three years old.

The officer, identified by the army only as Captain R, was charged this week with illegal use of his weapon, conduct unbecoming an officer and other relatively minor infractions after emptying all 10 bullets from his gun's magazine into Iman al-Hams when she walked into a "security area" on the edge of Rafah refugee camp last month.

A tape recording of radio exchanges between soldiers involved in the incident, played on Israeli television, contradicts the army's account of the events and appears to show that the captain shot the girl in cold blood.

The official account claimed that Iman was shot as she walked towards an army post with her schoolbag because soldiers feared she was carrying a bomb.

But the tape recording of the radio conversation between soldiers at the scene reveals that, from the beginning, she was identified as a child and at no point was a bomb spoken about nor was she described as a threat. Iman was also at least 100 yards from any soldier.

Instead, the tape shows that the soldiers swiftly identified her as a "girl of about 10" who was "scared to death".

The tape also reveals that the soldiers said Iman was headed eastwards, away from the army post and back into the refugee camp, when she was shot.

At that point, Captain R took the unusual decision to leave the post in pursuit of the girl. He shot her dead and then "confirmed the kill" by emptying his magazine into her body.

The tape recording is of a three-way conversation between the army watchtower, the army post's operations room and the captain, who was a company commander.

The soldier in the watchtower radioed his colleagues after he saw Iman: "It's a little girl. She's running defensively eastward."

Operations room: "Are we talking about a girl under the age of 10?"

Watchtower: "A girl of about 10, she's behind the embankment, scared to death."

A few minutes later, Iman is shot in the leg from one of the army posts.

The watchtower: "I think that one of the positions took her out."

The company commander then moves in as Iman lies wounded and helpless.

Captain R: "I and another soldier ... are going in a little nearer, forward, to confirm the kill ... Receive a situation report. We fired and killed her ... I also confirmed the kill. Over."

Witnesses described how the captain shot Iman twice in the head, walked away, turned back and fired a stream of bullets into her body. Doctors at Rafah's hospital said she had been shot at least 17 times.

On the tape, the company commander then "clarifies" why he killed Iman: "This is commander. Anything that's mobile, that moves in the zone, even if it's a three-year-old, needs to be killed. Over."

The army's original account of the killing said that the soldiers only identified Iman as a child after she was first shot. But the tape shows that they were aware just how young the small, slight girl was before any shots were fired.

The case came to light after soldiers under the command of Captain R went to an Israeli newspaper to accuse the army of covering up the circumstances of the killing.

A subsequent investigation by the officer responsible for the Gaza strip, Major General Dan Harel, concluded that the captain had "not acted unethically".

However, the military police launched an investigation, which resulted in charges against the unit commander.

Iman's parents have accused the army of whitewashing the affair by filing minor charges against Captain R. They want him prosecuted for murder.

Record of a shooting: Watchtower - 'It's a little girl. She's running defensively eastward'
Operations room - 'Are we talking about a girl under the age of 10?'
Watchtower - 'A girl of about 10, she's behind the embankment, scared to death'
Captain R (after killing the girl) - 'Anything moving in the zone, even a three-year-old, needs to be killed'

ROBERT JAMES FOX shared with me that he had an accident wherein two members of a Zionist family died, wherefore it is no surprise to me that the Zionist family solicited kidnappers to bring him back to Canada after three years of death threats.

In my lifetime I have learned from personal experience and observation that Zionists do not forget, they do not forgive, and Zionists have little or no regard for human life outside of Zionists.

On 24 July 2014, starting at 9 am, people of conscience, including Muslims, Jews, and Christians, are coming together at the Israeli consulate in Toronto for a three day continuous vigil to call attention to the frightening slaughter of the Palestinian people in Gaza and condemn both the Israeli government and the complicity of Canada. We demand that the Canadian government and the international community call for an immediate cessation of Israel's assault against Palestinians in Gaza.

Below is an Open letter from Independent Jewish Voices, the International Jewish Anti-Zionist Network–Canada, and the United Jewish People's Order, Toronto to the members of the Ja'ffari Mosque condemning the defacing of the mosque and the hateful targeting of Arabs and Muslims:

To the members of the Ja'ffari Mosque:

We condemn in the strongest possible terms the threats and hateful graffiti targeting Muslims and Arabs that were left on the Ja'ffari Mosque in Thornhill. These racist attacks echo the ongoing violence and assaults in Gaza, the West Bank, and in Israel against Palestinians and those Israeli Jews who dare to criticise the policies of the Israeli state. Independent Jewish Voices Canada, the International Jewish Anti-Zionist Network Canada, and the United Jewish People's Order, Toronto wish to express our solidarity with our Muslim and Arab brothers and sisters and call for restraint and respect from Jewish communities at this difficult moment. These acts are abhorrent and do not represent all Jews. Moreover, they go against the Jewish teachings most of us grew up with which urged us to "love thy neighbor as thyself". Our own histories of oppression should be what guides us: Never again for anyone!

Protest Israel's Escalation of Violence (<http://ijsn.net/uncategorized/protest-israels-escalation-of-violence/>)

The International Jewish Anti-Zionist Network (IJAN) condemns Israel's escalation of violence, as well as the revenge threats by the Israeli government and citizens and Zionist organizations and public figures. We denounce Western states and media claiming this brutality is somehow justified retribution for the deaths of three Jewish settlers from the racist, Jewish-only colony of Gush Etzion in the West Bank of Palestine.

In the space of just a few days, the Gaza Strip has been indiscriminately bombarded by warplanes; upwards of 600 Palestinians have been rounded up and imprisoned, and at least ten Palestinians have been killed—including several children, a pregnant mother, and a seventeen-year old boy whose burnt, mutilated body was found dumped in a forest outside East Jerusalem. These actions expose the terrorism of a racist settler-colonial state. IJAN stands in solidarity with the Palestinian people and defends their right to resist the violence of colonialism and apartheid.

It is urgent that we act: Over the next week, please organize rallies, protests, actions, demonstrations and vigils to protest this latest escalation of Israeli violence.

The International Jewish Anti-Zionist Network stands with Professor Rabab Abdulhadi in the face of baseless political attacks against her by Tammi Rossman-Benjamin and her AMCHA network. These attacks are designed to silence Professor Abdulhadi and prevent her from carrying on her scholarship. Below, see the full statement from professor Abdulhadi refuting AMCHA's claims. To support Professor Abdulhadi and oppose intimidation on campus, please visit: bit.ly/supportrabab

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

I write to provide a response to the false allegations made against me by the AMCHA Initiative in its latest escalation of the McCarthyist repression campaign to silence discussion of Palestinian rights on campus.

The accusation that I misrepresented the nature and purpose of my January 2014 trip to Palestine and Jordan is false.

The record, including documents which AMCHA cites, demonstrates that my application for travel authorization was transparent and accurate. In five separate documents, I noted that the purpose of the trip was to attend an international conference and to research, network, and collaborate with potential university partners towards a possible memorandum of understanding between San Francisco State University (SFSU) and Palestinian universities.

Zionist Origins

Zionism became a political movement among wealthy Jews at the end of the nineteenth century, when European imperialism encouraged a nationalist ferment to aggravate class antagonism across the continent. It grew among Yiddish speaking Jews from central to Eastern Europe in the shadow of German nationalism, mimicking the German need for an ideology of identity as part of the last phase of European nationalist enthusiasm. Its proponents were German Jews, Theodor Herze, Moses Hess, and Max Nordau, and it was peculiar among German Yiddish speakers in comparison with Jews elsewhere that there was a growing modern secular culture ready to enter the European ferment of nationalist movements.

The term "Zionism" was first introduced in 1893 by Nathan Birnbaum, an Austrian Jew, but the spiritual father of the movement was Theodor Herze, another Austrian Jew, then on the editorial staff of the Neue Freie Presse, a Vienna newspaper. Born in the family of a rich emancipated Budapest merchant, he became completely assimilated, changing his Jewish name to an Austrian one—Theodor Herzl. Although he knew no Hebrew, nor Jewish history, Herzl became the ideologue of Jewish nationalism.

Capitalizing on a favourable situation which had developed after the case of Alfred Dreyfus, a captain in the French General Staff who was unjustly accused by antisemites of spying for Germany and who in 1894 was sentenced to penal servitude for life, Herzl was recognized as the founder of the Zionist ideology when he published his book, The Jewish State (1895), where he declared that the cure for antisemitism was the establishment of a Jewish state. As he saw it, the best place to establish this state was in Palestine. He called on the Jews not to sit and wait for the Messiah to come, but to resettle "the land promised to them by God" quickly, and establish a Jewish national state there. Despite his efforts, however, by 1914, ten years after his death, only 2 percent of German Jews were Zionists.

Herzl's view was eagerly grabbed and upheld by his followers. Chaim Weizmann, then a chemistry professor at Manchester university in the UK, maintained that antisemitism is a bacillus which every man carries with him everywhere, regardless of his assurances to the contrary. Following mainstream Zionist rejection of that proposal, Weizmann was credited later with persuading Balfour, then the Foreign Minister, for British support to establish a Jewish homeland in Palestine, the original Zionist demand. Weizmann famously said:

There is a country which happens to be called Palestine, a country without people, and, on the other hand, there exists the Jewish people, and it has no country.

Palestine certainly did have a people—the Palestinians—but they were ruled for hundreds of years by the Ottomans. Apparently, because they did not rule themselves, Weizmann and his fellow Zionists could not see them. Yet the Jews had not ruled themselves since the time of Pompey, the Roman general in the first century BC! Nevertheless, this slogan, "a country without a people for a people without a country" was used to recruit Jewish immigrants to Palestine. Weizmann also described the Palestinian people, "the rocks of Judea, as obstacles that had to be cleared on a difficult path". In the 1920s, with Zionism unpopular among Jews, Weizmann wrote:

I trembled lest the British Government would call me and ask: "Tell us, what is this Zionist Organization? Where are they, your Zionists?"... The Jews, they knew, were against us [the Zionists].

Weizmann eventually became president of the Zionist Organization (ZO). Founded in 1897, Herzl's followers and supporters met at their first international congress in Basel, Switzerland, giving birth to the Zionist Organization. Mount Zion is a hill at the edge of Jerusalem, on which, according to the bible, king David, the mythical ruler of Judah, once lived. The Temple of day, the members of a kibbutz did not get any payment either in cash or in kind. What they got was lodging, plain food and some clothes. Once in two years they were entitled to a holiday. Anyone who left the kibbutz, even those who had worked for many years, were not entitled to anything. The whole profit made by a kibbutz was appropriated by the Zionist administration which was not accountable to the members of the kibbutz.

By calling the kibbutzim and the Histadrut enterprises “socialist” the Zionists tried to disguise the true nature of their enterprises, and at the same time to cast aspersions on the class nature of society, discrediting it in the eyes of the unfortunate settlers who cursed their hard lot and Zionist “socialism”. The workforce of a kibbutz was mostly young and healthy immigrants who had no money and who were therefore compelled to hire themselves out. Poor they came and poor they went. Such is “communism”, Zionist style—more like an exploitative religious sect.

Zionists are the sworn enemies of genuine socialism, but they resort widely to posing as socialists through demagogic assertions of their socialism to try to win over Jewish workers. It is another parallel with the Nazis, the German National Socialist and Democratic Party of Hitler, which shrewdly exploited the popularity of socialist ideas in building up their initial support.

To camouflage their anti-social activity, Zionist leaders resort to dishonesty. In 1970, after talks between the government and Histadrut, which lasted for nearly a year, wages rose by a healthy 8 percent. It was a hoax. The “defence tax” was raised simultaneously from 10 to 15 percent of the average wage, and half of the 8 percent rise was to be paid in compulsory bonds for a “security loan” subscription. The increased tax and subscription deductions came to 9 percent of the wage, leaving the beneficiaries one percent worse off. So much for Zionist trade union leadership. In reply to protests, the Zionists advanced the slogan:

You cannot defend the country and raise wages at the same time.

This is equivalent to Göring’s statement: “Iron makes an empire strong. Butter only makes people fat”, or “Guns not butter”. Göring is surpassed in his rhetoric by the Zionist leadership of Israel today.

Following the 2011 Israeli social justice protests, Histadrut, in February 2012, called a general strike for badly paid subcontracted and unorganized workers. The demand was for the same pay and conditions as regular employees. A settlement gave the subcontractors some gains but at the cost of an enforced moratorium on striking over such issues for three years.

Really Israel is a state where the implements and means of production are owned by capitalists, and where the state apparatus safeguards the interest of propertied classes. It is a state based on exploitation—a typically capitalist state that can contain only token elements of socialism. Private enterprises owned by domestic or foreign capitalists account for the bulk of industrial production in Israel.

Poverty and Housing

One of Israel’s major problems, which appeared at the outset and remains unsolved, is the problem of poverty. The living standard in 2008 of 20.5 percent of Israeli families is below the “poverty level”, most of them Israeli Arab and Haredi Jewish families. That measure is families, but 25 percent of all Israel’s residents (1.5 million people) and 36 percent of its children (805,000 children) are poor. International Living Magazine in 2010 found that Israel has the 47th highest standard of living in the world. The monthly income per member of these families was about 70 Israeli pounds in the 1970s, which was barely enough to buy bread and margarine. By 2008, the average family income for Israel’s Jewish majority was US $4000 per month, while for Israel’s Arabs it was US $2,200 per month. Over half of all Arab families in Israel lived in poverty. The National Insurance Institute (NII) found that poverty in Israel has not declined, though incomes

Lawyer fined $39K for misconduct

CBC News Posted: Sep 29, 2009 11:19 AM CT Last Updated: Sep 29, 2009 11:11 AM CT

A prominent Winnipeg criminal defence lawyer has been fined $39,000 after pleading guilty to misconduct for mishandling a client's account.

Greg Brodsky deferred comment on the matter to his own lawyer, Dave Hill.

Hill said this is the first time in Brodsky's 46-year career that he has faced any type of discipline from the Law Society of Manitoba.

Hill added that Brodsky was quick to admit his mistake and is embarrassed about it.

"Nobody likes to see [their name in] a headline in the newspaper. Nobody likes to hear their name on the radio in a negative way and I suspect nobody would like to see himself on the evening news," Hill said. "So that's a tremendous effect."

Brodsky recently appeared before a law society panel facing two charges:

- Breaching the code of professional conduct by failing to act with integrity and receiving payment for legal services without accounting for such payment to his law firm.
- Breaching the law society's accounting rules by failing to deposit a retainer to a pooled trust account.

According to an agreed statement of facts provided by Hill and the prosecuting attorney, a client hired Brodsky in December 2005 and provided a $10,000 retainer made out to the law firm Brodsky & Company.

'He admitted that he had created this impression on the part of the client that the $10,000 had not been accounted for and he took full responsibility.'—Dave Hill

In August 2006, Brodsky requested an additional $10,000 but told the man to write the cheque to him personally. Brodsky then deposited the cheque into his own personal bank account.

On Dec. 4, 2006, Brodsky's firm issued a statement to the client indicating a credit for the original retainer but did not include anything about the second $10,000 payment.

The client then filed a complaint with the law society.

According to Hill, Brodsky made a mistake and simply put the second $10,000 payment into the wrong account. When he found out, he promptly paid the client the $10,000 that was in question.

"He admitted that he had created this impression on the part of the client that the $10,000 had not been accounted for and he took full responsibility," said Hill. "He's admitting ... he breached two of the ethics of the law society."

The penalty for Brodsky's mistake is a fine of $20,000 plus $19,000 for the costs of the law society incurred to investigate, prosecute and hear the case, Hill said.

The penalty was a joint recommendation by Hill and prosecuting attorney.

Hill said the matter was particularly embarrassing for Brodsky, who was once the chair of the law society's ethics and judicial committees.

Hill also said the panel recognized Brodsky's contribution to the legal profession and the community at large, and decided no further restrictions were required on his practice.

He's made a name for himself nationally as one of Canada's top criminal defence lawyers.

But when Greg Brodsky ran into charges that he'd breached professional standards as a lawyer, all he could do was enter a guilty plea.

Brodsky must pay $39,000 in fines and costs after admitting he mishandled a former client's account. It marks the first time Brodsky has been called on the carpet by the Law Society of Manitoba during a 46-year career that has seen him defend more than 600 alleged killers, which is believed to be a North American record.

Brodsky, a former chairman of the law society's ethics and judicial committees, appeared before a panel of three lawyers last month on two charges: breaching the code of professional conduct by failing to act with integrity and receiving payment for legal services without accounting for such payment to his law firm, and breaching the law society's accounting rules by failing to deposit a retainer to a pooled trust account.

The law society and a lawyer acting on behalf of Brodsky made a joint recommendation for the $20,000 fine and the $19,000 cost of the investigation, prosecution and hearing of the case.

"The panel considered the lengthy practice history of the member and his contribution to the profession and the community and accepted the joint recommendation," the decision reads.

The law society has several available sanctions for lawyers found guilty of misconduct, ranging from a reprimand and a fine to a suspension or disbarment. An online search of other disciplinary notices over the past several years reveals Brodsky's fine is one of the largest handed down.

"It is a substantial fine," Darcia Senft, counsel with the law society, told the Free Press on Monday. She said the sanction will be on Brodsky's permanent record.

Brodsky declined to comment when reached by the Free Press Monday.

According to a summary of agreed facts, Brodsky was hired in December 2005 to defend a man facing unspecified criminal charges. The accused wrote a cheque in the amount of $5,000, which was made payable to Brodsky's law firm of Brodsky & Company. Another $5,000 cheque was written to the firm in March 2006.

The $10,000 retainer was based on expected services that had not yet been rendered. Both cheques were deposited in the pooled trust account of his firm, as required.

In August 2006, Brodsky phoned his client requesting an additional $10,000. This time, Brodsky told the man to write the cheque to him personally, rather than to his firm. Brodsky then deposited the cheque into his own personal bank account.

On Dec. 4, 2006, Brodsky's firm rendered a statement of account to the client that showed a credit for a trust transfer in the amount of $10,000 made up of the two separate $5,000 cheques paid to him previously. However, the statement did not make any reference to the $10,000 paid to him personally.

The client immediately filed a complaint with the law society and Brodsky agreed to refund the $10,000 at the centre of the dispute.

No explanation for the incident has been provided in the disciplinary summary.

"The panel found Mr. Brodsky guilty of professional misconduct based on his admission to the charges," the decision reads.

Brodsky graduated in 1963 from the University of Manitoba's law program. He received his master's of law in 1965.

He was called to the Ontario bar in 1971 and to the Saskatchewan bar in 1977. Brodsky was appointed to Queen's Counsel in 1976 as a senior partner at Walsh Micay.

Brodsky has made headlines across Canada for his role in several precedent-setting cases that created the so-called battered wife defence and modernized the not-criminally-responsible defence.

Israel's 'Iron Dome' EXPOSED! A Massive HOAX!!

The Iron Dome Hoax is a rather hard one to understand the reasoning behind and comes to terms with, after all we are told on the nightly news night after night that Hamas missiles are being intercepted by the almost god-like Iron dome system, which intercepts allegedly 90% of the missiles launched toward Israel... Why lie about that?

What proof is there that Iron Dome actually is hitting missiles in the first place? Well, there actually isn't any, the few Hamas missiles actually ever launched (Hamas is a group created by and controlled by the state of Israel) do not in fact even have warheads, and are basically hollow pipes and fireworks as has been proven time and time again.

Well, it turns out the "Iron Dome" interceptor missiles are a similar scam- They are in fact not intercepting anything, but instead are exploding in thin air, making people feel they are intercepting alleged Hamas rockets, when in reality they're essentially billions of dollars worth of American taxpayer money fireworks self-detonating in the air - glorified fireworks as well.

Speculation this was the case has been growing, with a more recent assertion by Israeli Dr. Motti Sheffer saying exactly that- The Iron Dome is a massive lie, which is "intercepting" "simulated rockets" which in reality do not exist.. The Iron Dome rockets are just self-detonating in the air, causing a loud sound, but not intercepting anything.

A group of Israeli skeptics asked the Israeli government to see the thermal imaging proof that the rockets were in fact intercepting other rockets, and they were denied- But why deny them some thermal imaging of the "proof" of Iron dome? There is no reason to withhold said proof, which is further evidence that there are no "Hamas rockets" being intercepted by Iron Dome, and Iron Dome is just a fireworks system.

The only "Hamas Rockets" that ever make it into Israel which we are shown are essentially smoke bombs, and the rest are hollow metal tubes, that's hardly anything to get worried about. There don't appear to be any warheads, and there is no visible damage in Israel at all from these supposed "Hamas Rocket attacks" which in reality don't contain warheads.

But why? Why would Israel do this? Well, the answer is obvious:

The reason for the fake Hamas "missile attacks" and the phony Iron dome system is to keep the Israeli population in fear and thinking their is a legitimate attack on their lives (when no such threat actually exists) it is to make them hate the Palestinians, and allow the actual ground invasion to take place, which will kill hundreds of thousands eventually- as well as to put in place the "no go zone" which essentially eliminates half of Gaza to residential habitation.

It is also to guarantee billions of dollars of US funding "protecting Israel", and to make the American people feel Israel is in fact under attack, and to make the American people the money we are sending them (the Israelis) to protect themselves from the non-existent Hamas rocket threat is being well spent.

Who needs billions of dollars for road repairs, health care, or just tax rebates in the US.. when we can send that money to Israel?
